°BRIX

A processing tomato variety with determinate growth, ideal for open field cultivation. The plant is very hardy, strong, and healthy, with good coverage and compactness. It tolerates high summer temperatures well and adapts to a variety of soil types, providing excellent yields. The fruit is Prismatic, oval in shape, medium to large in size, weighing 70-80g, and has a deep, uniform red color. The sugar content is excellent, typically around 6-7°Brix. Fruit set is very abundant, with numerous, concentratedly ripened fruits that do not present problems with cracking or blossom-end rot. Productivity is excellent, easily reaching 5 kg/plant.
